

Croatia & Montenegro: An Active Adriatic Adventure

Sail, Paddle & Hike the Dalmatian Coast & Wild High Country of Durmitor National Park

Zaton Bay, Croatia

Looking for a more remote European experience? With more than 1,200 islands along the sun-soaked Dalmatian Coast, plus rugged mountains and waterfalls inland, Croatia and Montenegro are beguiling destinations for the nature traveler. Via kayak and on foot, revel in the best scenery in the Mediterranean, exploring rocky headlands, sandy beaches, turquoise bays and red-roofed towns that cascade to the sea. From our private sailing catamaran we launch kayaks at a new destination each day, navigating intimate coves and exploring ashore. Dubrovnik and the villages of ancient Dalmatia are a highlight—cultural and architectural treasures as seductive as the landscape. But we don't stop there: This unique adventure also includes Montenegro's little-visited Durmitor National Park, where we hike among dramatic peaks, lakes, plateaus and some of the deepest gorges on Earth.

- » Sail the sparkling Adriatic aboard our deluxe chartered catamaran—a private small-group adventure for just eight guests
- » Kayak among forested isles and secluded coves along a coastline steeped in history, with some of the best local food and wine in the Mediterranean!
- » Discover some of Europe's most dramatic scenery in little-traveled Montenegro, hiking among the peaks, lakes and canyons of Durmitor National Park

"This trip covers a lot of ground, which is what I appreciated most about it. The kayaking was incredible, but the other highlights were the cultural visits and the food as well as the spectacular hiking in Montenegro!" — S. Hopper
