COVID-19 CORONAVIRUS updates & information

The never-ending news coverage of Coronavirus is enough to fray even the steeliest of nerves. Although “Coronavirus” is a word we heard for the first time several weeks ago, helping our clients navigate uncertainty due to epidemics and global events is not new for us. Rest-assured, Distinctive Journeys is putting the full weight of 20 Years as a Virtuoso Member (www.Virtuoso.com) into play to monitor the situation and advocate for our clients.

Our clients’ safety and peace-of-mind is paramount, and we remain vigilant in our attention to this global concern. Below are just a few ways Distinctive Journeys is preparing for and responding to potential travel disruptions.

- We are closely following the advice from authoritative sources such as the World Health Organization, CDC, and the U.S. State Department.
- Real time Information <https://www.worldometers.info/>
- We are receiving daily updates from our partners in countries that have been affected and are likely to be affected so we have the most credible and relevant information at our fingertips.
- The Distinctive Journeys Team is working closely with partners to advocate for flexibility with regards to cancellations and penalties so that our travelers can have some extra time to see how the situation plays out.

There is no shortage of news articles and coverage on Coronavirus, however Distinctive Journeys recommends the following resources for the most credible information:

The facts about coronavirus: What you need to know (CBS)

- CDC COVID-19 Latest Updates
- World Health Organization COVID-19 Outbreak Updates
- All Your Coronavirus Travel Questions Answered \(Wall Street Journal\)
- Coronavirus Disease 2019 vs. the Flu \(Johns Hopkins\)
- COVID-19 Coronavirus Outbreak Count

Although we have every hope the Coronavirus will be contained and run its course sooner rather than later, we cannot predict what may transpire. We are so very grateful for our clients' loyalty and understanding, and it is a pleasure to help travelers navigate this beautiful, unpredictable world of ours.
